

Block 1

Scholarship and Social Justice Conference

UNDERGRADS: SUBMIT YOUR RESEARCH ABSTRACTS FOR PRESENTATION CONSIDERATION BY

FEBRUARY 11, 2022

Please read carefully. This RFP has two parts:

Part I: Personal and Contact Information

Part II: Research Proposal

We invite students to apply to present their research projects [addressing] issues of equity and access for under-represented or marginalized groups in areas of health, education, political engagement and immigration.

Students may choose to present in one of three presentation categories:

- Panel Presentations (live)
- Research Roundtables (live)
- Poster Presentations (asynchronous)

If the research you'd like to present will be complete by the time of the conference (meaning data collection and analysis stages are complete), please apply to present for either the Full Panel Presentation or the Poster Session. If your research will not be complete by the time of the conference, and/or you'd like feedback from peers and faculty, please apply for research roundtables.

If you have questions, please contact vghosh@fas.harvard.edu

Please note the following important dates and deadlines:

+

Proposal submission deadline: February 11th, 2022

Decisions communicated to applicants: February 28th, 2022

Deadline for confirming attendance: March 1st, 2022

Conference dates: Thursday, April 14th and Thursday, 15th, 2022

Part I: Personal and Contact Information

Full name

Year in undergraduate study

- First-year/freshman
- Sophomore
- Junior
- Senior
- Other

Academic major or concentration

Academic minor or secondary (if any)

Institutional affiliation

Email address

Telephone number

Part II: Research Proposal

Title of research project

Keywords that describe the research project

(e.g. transgender identity, higher education, racism, violence against women, etc.)

Please select the answer that most closely applies to your research:

- Senior thesis/capstone project
- Completed individually as part of a project for a class
- Completed with other students as part of a project for a class
- Completed as part of a research team led by a faculty researcher
- Other

Please indicate the date your thesis is due to your advisor or professor?

Was this research conducted under faculty supervision? Did you have a faculty advisor?

Yes

No

Name of faculty member who supervised/advised the research project?

Department faculty supervisor/advisor is affiliated with (e.g. Biology, Fine Arts, Sociology, etc.)

Faculty supervisor/advisor's email address

If this research was led by a faculty researcher and conducted with others (including faculty members, postdoctoral researchers, graduate and undergraduate students), please list their names, institutional affiliations, respective titles, and email addresses.

If this research involved human subjects, please indicate whether your project has received IRB approval from your institution:

Yes

No

Pending approval

Not applicable

If this research was conducted with other students, please list their names, year in undergraduate study, major/concentration, institutional affiliation, and email addresses.

Please indicate which part of the conference you applying for:

- Panel Presentation (completed study)
- Poster Presentations (completed study)
- Research Roundtables (incomplete study)

Please upload your 450 word research proposal here.

Based on the questions above, please provide a 450-word proposal which summarizes your project. In under 450 words, the proposal should:

- state the topic of the research
- give the main objective of the research
- indicate the methodology used
- present the main findings and conclusions, including implications for social justice

The proposal should also be formatted accordingly: title of study, your name and university affiliation centered at the top, in 12 point Times New Roman font, double spaced, 1" margins, on Microsoft Word or Google Docs. Please no PDFs. Proposals of more than 450 words will not be considered for inclusion in the conference.

Are you able to attend both days of the conference: April 14th and 15th, 2021?
Please note that the conference will be held online. Presenters are required to attend sessions in addition to the one in which they are presenting.

Yes

No

Other

Powered by Qualtrics